

Row Cover Supports

Row cover supports are attached to the top of your raised garden boxes allowing you to attach frost cloth over them. The frost cloth with incondescent clamp on lighting will bring your growing temperature up 20+ degrees, so at night when the temperatures drop your plants will remain nice and warm allowing them to thrive during those winter months. A must for year round growing!

